MOHICAN HOTEL CORNICE RIPPED AWAY FOR 50 FEET

Police Guard Street While Employees Rope Hanging Mass—Ferryboat in Trouble.

New London, Conn., Dec. 26.—At the height of the gale Sunday afternoon the heavy metal cornice surmounting the State street front of the main building of the Mohican hotel was ripped from its fastenings for a distance of 50 feet and for a time the hanging portion of the cornice seriously jeopardized the lives of pedestrians. Employees of the hotel ascended to the roof and threw ropes over the parapet which were fastened about the dividing pillars of the cornice, thus preventing the cornice from falling to the street. Police guarded the street until the cornice was roped in and made comparatively safe.

The high wind drove the water out of the slip and the New London-Groton ferry on the Groton side and for four hours the ferryboat, Guy Windward, was unable to make a landing, finally this said to be the first occurrence of the kind in the history of the ferry.

Shahan, all of Norwich. The papers allege that on Oct. 13, 1915, Mary Fahey had deposits of $2,925.51 in the Norwich Savings society. She lived with the defendants, and it is alleged that they took advantage of her age and her impaired mental faculties, and persuaded her to draw out of the bank the sum of $3,000, thereafter taking this money from Mary Fahey and using it for their own purposes. On Nov. 3, 1915, Mary Fahey died, leaving a will in which Mr. Treanor was named as sole executor. Attorney J. J. Desmond represents the plaintiff.

A suit for $5,000 damages is brought by Samuel Sussman of this city against the Shore Line Electric company. Thomas Fahey Died From His Burns at Lawrence Hospital.

Burns received at his home in South View London Sunday afternoon in the death of Thomas Fahey, 69 years of age, Sunday night at the Lawrence hospital, New London.

His clothes caught fire and he was soon enveloped in flames. Whether his clothes caught fire from the stove or the lighted cigarette Fahey did not know.

A woman living in the other side of the same house smelled the smoke and went into Fahey's house to investigate. There she found Fahey on the floor with his clothes afire. She seized a bucket of water and threw it over Fahey and succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

He was immediately summoned and Fahey was rushed to the Lawrence hospital where it was found that he had received extensive burns on the right side of his body from the toes up to his face. The burns were of such a serious nature that it was evident that he could not survive them and he died about 10:30 Sunday night. Mrs. Laporte's claim is that a woman in New Canaan sent a letter to Plattsburgh, N. Y., to a Mrs. Martha Laporte. The postmaster there gave it to Mrs. Laporte's mother, who sent it here thinking it was for Mrs. Martha Laporte. The shortness of the notice left the meeting without a speaker, but General Secretary Hill was equal to the occasion and gave the men and women present an interesting talk on "Christ the Giver of Peace. No matter how many problems we have in life, He will help us solve them," said Secretary Hill. "No matter how many sorrows, He will comfort us. The thought that will lead us to love Him most and to trust Him also will be the thought of His sacrifice when He gave up His life that we might have the peace He came to bring. ## CHINESE REVOLUTIONISTS CLAIM A REPUBLIC

And That They Have the Only Legal Government in China.

Peking, Dec. 27.—The revolutionists in Yunnan declare that they are maintaining a republic and that they have the only legal government in China. President Yuan Shi Kai has appointed the French minister to isolate the revolutionists by severing railway, telegraph and mail service from Yunnan Fu to the sea. He also sought permission to send troops to Yunnan by the French railway. His request was referred to the Paris government.

The foreign office issued a statement today saying that the revolutionists were acting on the mistaken belief that President Yuan Shi Kai had promised the triple entente powers special privileges if the change from a republic to a monarchy in China was not opposed by them.

The statement urges the entente powers to make declaration that they have not interfered in Chinese internal affairs and never demanded special privileges. The statement also says that the province of Yunnan will be easily pacified.

Middletown.—The steamers Hartford and Middletown omitted the Saturday trip between New York and Hartford this week. The regular schedule will be resumed today (Monday).
